Josh Fox is internationally recognized as a spokesperson and leader on the issue of fracking and extreme energy development. Now is the time for communities to come together to take action! Projects like the National Fuel Northern Access Project would bring fracked gas from PA through a new pipeline, compressor and dehydration station for shipment to Canada under the Niagara River. There are also the dangerous and highly explosive trains carrying fracked Bakken crude oil through our communities. These projects must be stopped to allow a just transition to a climate safe renewable energy future.
